Timely Tips ON ROSE CULTURE

Roses require a plentiful supply of organic matter in the soil and thorough drainage. Excavate the beds at least two feet deep. If your soil does not drain well place a layer of gravel on the bottom, then alternately fill with layers of soil and manure until the bed is filled. Roses like a heavy soil.

The hole should be dug large enough to admit all of the roots without cramping. The graft (i.e., the point where the root joins the top) should be placed at least 3 inches below the ground level. Prune after planting. Cut back to 2 to 3 stems with 3 or 4 buds on each stem. Water heavily until growth starts.

WINTER PROTECTION—In late fall mound up the dirt around each plant, then after ground freezes cover mound with several inches of leaves or litter to prevent alternate freezing and thawing. In the following spring remove the mulch and soil mound gradually. This will permit the soft, protected stems to toughen. After soil has been removed to natural level cut plant back to 3 or 4 stems with 4 or 5 buds on each stem.
